

Leviathan, Behemoth, the 5th. King, and the Dragon.

Biblical references to the peoples of this Earth.

The Peoples of the Earth

Four Chariots

- 1 I looked up again, and there before me were four chariots coming out from between two mountains—mountains of bronze.
- 2 The first chariot had red horses, the second black,
- 3 the third white, and the fourth dappled—all of them powerful.
- 4 I asked the angel who was speaking to me, “What are these, my lord?”
- 5 The angel answered me, “These are the four spirits of heaven, going out from standing in the presence of the Lord of the whole world.
- 6 The one with the black horses is going toward the north country, the one with the white horses toward the west, and the one with the dappled horses toward the south.”
- 7 When the powerful horses went out, they were straining to go throughout the earth. And he said, “Go throughout the earth!” So they went throughout the earth.
- 8 Then he called to me, “Look, those going toward the north country have given my Spirit rest in the land of the north.”

Leviathan

Leviathan (/lɪˈvaɪ.əθən/; Hebrew: לִיְוָתָן Livyatan) is a creature with the form of a sea monster from Jewish belief, referenced in the Hebrew Bible in the Book of Job, Psalms, the Book of Isaiah, and the Book of Amos.

The Leviathan of the Book of Job is a reflection of the older Canaanite Lotan, a primeval monster defeated by the god Hadad. Parallels to the role of Mesopotamian Tiamat defeated by Marduk have long been drawn in comparative mythology, as have been wider comparisons to dragon and world serpent narratives such as Indra slaying Vrtra or Thor slaying Jörmungandr,[1] but Leviathan already figures in the Hebrew Bible as a metaphor for a powerful enemy, notably Babylon (Isaiah 27:1), and some scholars have pragmatically interpreted it as referring to large aquatic creatures, such as the crocodile.[2] The word later came to be used as a term for "great whale" as well as of sea monsters in general.

Leviathan

Leviathan has been footnoted into the Bible as an unknowable mystery, a sort of monster or animal that no longer exist, or perhaps never did. Reality is that Leviathan is a war-code, along with behemoth and the Book of Job, to remind Hebrews to be a kingdom of priests to these formidable foreigners, and to be able to identify this easily and readily requires the gift of prophecy remain intact among the people.

Egyptian artwork depicting Egyptians fighting against an invader referred to as the Sea Peoples.

The Sea Peoples were a confederacy of naval raiders who harried the coastal towns and cities of the Mediterranean region between c. 1276-1178 BCE, concentrating their efforts especially on Egypt. The nationality of the Sea Peoples remains a mystery as the existing records of their activities are mainly Egyptian sources who only describe them in terms of battle such as the record from the Stele at Tanis which reads, in part, "They came from the sea in their war ships and none could stand against them." This description is typical of Egyptian references to these mysterious invaders.

The Book of Job ch. 41 says about Leviathan

1 “Can you pull in Leviathan with a fishhook or tie down its tongue with a rope? 2 Can you put a cord through its nose or pierce its jaw with a hook? 3 Will it keep begging you for mercy? Will it speak to you with gentle words? 4 Will it make an agreement with you for you to take it as your slave for life? 5 Can you make a pet of it like a bird or put it on a leash for the young women in your house? 6 Will traders barter for it? Will they divide it up among the merchants? 14 Who dares open the doors of its mouth, ringed about with fearsome teeth?

Divide amongst merchants? Make an agreement to be a slave for life? Begging for mercy? Speak with gentle words?

The Book of Job ch. 41 says about Leviathan

7 Can you fill its hide with harpoons or its head with fishing spears? 8 If you lay a hand on it, you will remember the struggle and never do it again! 9 Any hope of subduing it is false; the mere sight of it is overpowering. 10 No one is fierce enough to rouse it. Who then is able to stand against me? 11 Who has a claim against me that I must pay? Everything under heaven belongs to me. 12 “I will not fail to speak of Leviathan’s limbs, its strength and its graceful form. 13 Who can strip off its outer coat? Who can penetrate its double coat of armor ?

What animal has a double coat of armor? What animal would God brag against?

The Book of Job ch. 41 says about Leviathan

15 Its back has rows of shields tightly sealed together; 16 each is so close to the next that no air can pass between. 17 They are joined fast to one another; they cling together and cannot be parted. 18 Its snorting throws out flashes of light; its eyes are like the rays of dawn. 19 Flames stream from its mouth; sparks of fire shoot out. 20 Smoke pours from its nostrils as from a boiling pot over burning reeds. 21 Its breath sets coals ablaze, and flames dart from its mouth. 22 Strength resides in its neck; dismay goes before it. 23 The folds of its flesh are tightly joined; they are firm and immovable.

This should say, "It spits out burning brands," but nonetheless animals do not breathe fire, but armies do.

The Book of Job ch. 41 says about Leviathan

24 Its chest is hard as rock, hard as a lower millstone. 25 When it rises up, the mighty are terrified; they retreat before its thrashing. 26 The sword that reaches it has no effect, nor does the spear or the dart or the javelin. 27 Iron it treats like straw and bronze like rotten wood. 28 Arrows do not make it flee; slingstones are like chaff to it. 29 A club seems to it but a piece of straw; it laughs at the rattling of the lance.

In the Bronze Age the Sea Peoples were an Iron Age people.

The Book of Job ch. 41 says about Leviathan

30 Its undersides are jagged potsherds, leaving a trail in the mud like a threshing sledge. 31 It makes the depths churn like a boiling caldron and stirs up the sea like a pot of ointment. 32 It leaves a glistening wake behind it; one would think the deep had white hair. 33 Nothing on earth is its equal— a creature without fear. 34 It looks down on all that are haughty; it is king over all that are proud.”

The Way

The hook for Leviathan is The Way. The path to salvation from the grave and damnation.

Leviathan attacked in World War II in the form of the Nazis Third Reich.

Leviathan currently exists in the forms of racial hatred and also in the forms of remote collectivism, such as Iceland. This is not the way existence is supposed to be for the white race. White pride should be something everyone can share in as human beings.

Leviathan should be the actual terminology for the masses of the white race as they are in existence in every population as well as in great numbers in places originally foreign for them. Perhaps this would dispel hostility and disengage certain organizations.

Behemoth

- 15 “Look at Behemoth,
which I made along with you
and which feeds on grass like an ox.
- 16 What strength it has in its loins,
what power in the muscles of its belly!
- 17 Its tail sways like a cedar;
the sinews of its thighs are close-knit.
- 18 Its bones are tubes of bronze,
its limbs like rods of iron.
- 19 It ranks first among the works of God,
yet its Maker can approach it with his sword.
- 20 The hills bring it their produce,
and all the wild animals play nearby.
- 21 Under the lotus plants it lies,
hidden among the reeds in the marsh.
- 22 The lotuses conceal it in their shadow;
the poplars by the stream surround it.
- 23 A raging river does not alarm it;
it is secure, though the Jordan should surge against its mouth.
- 24 Can anyone capture it by the eyes,
or trap it and pierce its nose?

The bones are bronze and it reaches for iron?

Ezekiel 32 Common English Bible (CEB)

Egypt the crocodile

32 In the twelfth year, on the first day of the twelfth month, the LORD's word came to me: ² Human one, sing a lament for Pharaoh, Egypt's king. Say to him:

You consider yourself a young lion among the nations,
but you are like the sea monster!

You thrash about in your rivers,
you roil the waters with your feet,
and you muddy your^[a] rivers.

³ The LORD God proclaims:

In the company of many peoples
I will spread my net over you,
and I will haul you up in my dragnet.

⁴ I will cast you out on the earth
and throw you on the open ground.
I will cause all the birds in the sky to settle on you,
and all the beasts of the earth to devour you.

I would like to point out in Zechariah 6

1 I looked up again, and there before me were four chariots coming out from between two mountains—mountains of bronze.

These are peoples also. Those who are not dappled, red, white, or black.

Who does Behemoth work for?

The King Josiah of Judah was foretold of in prophecy as an incoming gift from heaven. He was coming To rid the temple of dead men's bones.

1 Kings 13:2

“And he cried against the altar in the word of the LORD, and said, O altar, altar, thus saith the LORD; Behold, a child shall be born unto the house of David, Josiah by name; and upon thee shall he offer the priests of the high places that burn incense upon thee, and men's bones shall be burnt upon thee.”

King James Version (KJV)

2 Kings 23:25 New International Version (NIV)

²⁵ Neither before nor after Josiah was there a king like him who turned to the LORD as he did—with all his heart and with all his soul and with all his strength, in accordance with all the Law of Moses.

Behemoth crosses Israel

2 Chronicles 35:20-24 New International Version (NIV)

The Death of Josiah

²⁰ After all this, when Josiah had set the temple in order, Necho king of Egypt went up to fight at Carchemish on the Euphrates, and Josiah marched out to meet him in battle. ²¹ But Necho sent messengers to him, saying, “What quarrel is there, king of Judah, between you and me? It is not you I am attacking at this time, but the house with which I am at war. God has told me to hurry; so stop opposing God, who is with me, or he will destroy you.”

²² Josiah, however, would not turn away from him, but disguised himself to engage him in battle. He would not listen to what Necho had said at God’s command but went to fight him on the plain of Megiddo. ²³ Archers shot King Josiah, and he told his officers, “Take me away; I am badly wounded.” ²⁴ So they took him out of his chariot, put him in his other chariot and brought him to Jerusalem, where he died. He was buried in the tombs of his ancestors, and all Judah and Jerusalem mourned for him.

The moral of the story is that no matter who you are, God is on the side of the one who is doing His will. To interfere in this sort of business has all kinds of consequences.

The 5th. King

The Beast out of the Sea

- 1 The dragon stood on the shore of the sea. And I saw a beast coming out of the sea. It had ten horns and seven heads, with ten crowns on its horns, and on each head a blasphemous name.
- 2 The beast I saw resembled a leopard, but had feet like those of a bear and a mouth like that of a lion. The dragon gave the beast his power and his throne and great authority.
- 3 One of the heads of the beast seemed to have had a fatal wound, but the fatal wound had been healed. The whole world was filled with wonder and followed the beast.
- 4 People worshiped the dragon because he had given authority to the beast, and they also worshiped the beast and asked, “Who is like the beast? Who can wage war against it?”
- 5 The beast was given a mouth to utter proud words and blasphemies and to exercise its authority for forty-two months.
- 6 It opened its mouth to blaspheme God, and to slander his name and his dwelling place and those who live in heaven.
- 7 It was given power to wage war against God’s holy people and to conquer them. And it was given authority over every tribe, people, language and nation.

The Dragon is the masses of ungodly and unaligned people who are automatically manipulated by the material world and Satan is in control of them at least partially because they have no defense against this. Being an atheist is just as dangerous as being Satanic. It is being Satanic in fact.

The Beast is the nations and kingdoms of the Earth and the ocean is the tribes, nations, and languages. The beast coming out of the ocean is also the combined naval forces of NATO and then the UN.

The lion's head on the beast is the Arab and Jewish power combined.

The leopard's body is the African and Asian power combined, this is under the Arab and Jewish power.

The bear's feet are the Caucasian's power combined, under the rest and divided into four parts.
