

Islam and the prince of darkness

Arabic calligraphy of the Basmala (Bismillah), the opening of many Islamic prayers, which translates to "In the name of Allah, the Most Gracious, the Most Merciful." The text is written in a stylized, bold, black font.

The first two commandments of the 10 commandments are these:

I am YHWH your God who liberated you from your slavery in Egypt. You may worship no other God than me.

You shall not make for yourselves any idols: any images resembling animals, birds, fish. You must never bow to an image or worship it in any way; for I, YHWH your God am a jealous God. I will not share your affection with any other god!

The Kaaba (Arabic: كَعْبَة al-ka‘bah IPA: [al'kaʕba], "The Cube"), also referred to as al-Ka‘bah al-Musharrafah (Arabic: الكَعْبَة الْمُشَرَّفَة ,the Holy Ka'bah), is a building at the center of Islam's most important mosque, Al-Masjid Al-Ḥarām (Arabic: الْمَسْجِد الْحَرَام ,The Sacred Mosque), in the Hejazi city of Mecca, Saudi Arabia.[1] It is the most sacred site in Islam.[2] It is considered by Muslims to be the Bayt Allāh (Arabic: "بَيْتُ اللَّهِ", House of God"), and has a similar role to the Tabernacle and Holy of Holies in Judaism. Its location determines the qiblah (Arabic: قِبْلَة ,direction of prayer). Wherever they are in the world, Muslims are expected to face the Kaaba when performing Salah the Islamic prayer.

One of the Five Pillars of Islam requires every Muslim who is able to do so to perform the Hajj (Arabic: حَجّ , Greater Pilgrimage) at least once in their lifetime. Multiple parts of the hajj require pilgrims to make Tawaf (Arabic: طَوَاف ,Circumambulation) seven times around the Kaaba in a counter-clockwise direction. Tawaf is also performed by pilgrims during the ‘Umrah (Arabic: عُمْرَة , Lesser Pilgrimage).[2] However, the most significant time is during the hajj, when millions of pilgrims gather to circle the building within a 5-day period.[3][4] In 2017, the number of pilgrims coming from outside the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia to perform hajj was officially reported as 1,752,014 and 600,108 Saudi Arabian residents bringing the total number of pilgrims to 2,352,122.[5]

The Kaaba was thought to be at the center of the world, with the Gate of Heaven directly above it. The Kaaba marked the location where the sacred world intersected with the profane; the embedded Black Stone was a further symbol of this as a meteorite that had fallen from the sky and linked heaven and earth.

Prior to the spread of Islam throughout the Arabian Peninsula, the Kaaba was a holy site for the various Bedouin tribes of the area. Once every lunar year, the Bedouin tribes would make a pilgrimage to Mecca. Setting aside any tribal feuds, they would worship their pagan gods in the Kaaba and trade with each other in the city.[58] Various sculptures and paintings were held inside the Kaaba.

At the culmination of his mission,[66] in 630 CE, Muhammad conquered Mecca. His first action was to remove statues and images from the Kaaba.

...Shihab (said) that the Prophet (peace be upon him) entered the Ka'ba the day of the conquest, and in it was a picture of the angels (mala'ika) and others, and he saw a picture of Ibrahim and he said: "May Allah kill those representing him as a venerable old man casting arrows in divination (shaykhan yastaqsim bi 'l-azlam)." Then he saw the picture of Maryam, so he put his hands on it and he said: "Erase what is in it [the Ka'ba] in the way of pictures except the picture of Maryam."

The Black Stone (Arabic: الْحَجَرُ الْأَسْوَدُ, al-Ḥajaru al-Aswad, "Black Stone") is a rock set into the eastern corner of the Kaaba, the ancient building located in the center of the Grand Mosque in Mecca, Saudi Arabia. It is revered by Muslims as an Islamic relic which, according to Muslim tradition, dates back to the time of Adam and Eve.[1]

The stone was venerated at the Kaaba in pre-Islamic pagan times. According to Islamic tradition, it was set intact into the Kaaba's wall by the prophet Muhammad in 605 CE, five years before his first revelation. Since then it has been broken into fragments and is now cemented into a silver frame in the side of the Kaaba. Its physical appearance is that of a fragmented dark rock, polished smooth by the hands of pilgrims. Islamic tradition holds that it fell from heaven as a guide for Adam and Eve to build an altar. It has often been described as a meteorite.[2]

Muslim pilgrims circle the Kaaba as a part of the tawaf ritual during the hajj and many try to stop and kiss the Black Stone, emulating the kiss that Islamic tradition records that it received from Muhammad.[3][4] Muslims do not worship the Black Stone.[5][6]

In conclusion, evidence supports that the Kaaba is an idol itself that all Muslims must bow to. Islam means to submit and in the past people were decapitated if they did not submit to the worship of Allah and bow to Mecca.

Mosque comes from the Arabic word masjid, which means a place of bowing down and worshipping. Therefore there is a conundrum:

Does the creator require his followers to be bowing down in worship?

Is bowing down in worship risking idolatry?

Decapitation and Islam

5:33-“The punishment of those who wage war against Allah and His Messenger, and strive with might and main for mischief through the land is: execution (by beheading), or crucifixion, or the cutting off of hands and feet from opposite sides, or exile from the land: that is their disgrace in this world, and a heavy punishment is theirs in the Hereafter;”

8:12- “I will instill terror into the hearts of the unbelievers: smite ye above their necks and smite all their finger-tips off.”

47:4- “Therefore, when ye meet the Unbelievers (in fight), strike off their heads; at length; then when you have made wide Slaughter among them, carefully tie up the remaining captives”: thereafter (is the time for) either generosity or ransom: Until the war lays down its burdens.”

9:123: “Oh ye who believe! Murder those of the disbelievers and let them find harshness in you.”

2:191- “Kill them wherever you find them, and drive them out from wherever they drove you out.”

5: 45-- “We ordained therein for them: “Life for life, eye for eye, nose for nose, ear for ear. Toth for tooth, and wounds equal for equal.”

2:193- “Fight them on until there is no more tumult and religion becomes that of Allah”

9:29- "Fight those who do not believe in God and the last day... and fight People of the Book, (Christian and Jews) who do not accept the religion of truth (Islam) until they pay tribute (Zizziya tax) by hand, being inferior.”

Muhammad and Aisha

Al-Tabari says she was nine at the time her marriage was consummated. [32] Sahih al-Bukhari's hadith says "that the Prophet married her when she was six years old and he consummated his marriage when she was nine years old;"[33]

Some traditional hadith sources state that Aisha was betrothed to Muhammad at the age of 6 or 7;[16] other sources say she was 9 when she had a small marriage ceremony;[17] some sources put the date in her teens; but both the date and her age at marriage and later consummation with Muhammad in Medina are sources of controversy and discussion amongst scholars.

Is Aisha A Prophet?

There are also various traditions that reveal the mutual affection between Muhammad and Aisha. He would often just sit and watch her and her friends play with dolls, and on occasion he would even join them.[60][61][62] Additionally, they were close enough that each was able to discern the mood of the other, as many stories relate.[63][64] It is also important to note that there exists evidence that Muhammad did not view himself as entirely superior to Aisha, at least not enough to prevent Aisha from speaking her mind, even at the risk of angering Muhammad. On one such instance, Muhammad's "announcement of a revelation permitting him to enter into marriages disallowed to other men drew from her [Aisha] the retort, 'It seems to me your Lord hastens to satisfy your desire!'"[65] Furthermore, Muhammad and Aisha had a strong intellectual relationship.[66] Muhammad valued her keen memory and intelligence and so instructed his companions to draw some of their religious practices from her.[67][68]

Islam and Bestiality

Man can have sex with animals such as sheep, camels and so on. However, he should kill the animal after he has his orgasm. He should not sell the meat to the people in his own village. But selling the meat to a neighbouring village is reasonable.

What Does the Koran Say?

Zinā' (زِنَاء or zina (زِنَى or زِنًا) is an Islamic legal term referring to unlawful sexual intercourse.[1] According to traditional jurisprudence, zina can include adultery (of married parties), fornication (of unmarried parties), prostitution, bestiality, and rape.[1] Classification of homosexual intercourse as zina differs according to legal school.[2] The Quran disapproved of the promiscuity prevailing in Arabia at the time, and several verses refer to unlawful sexual intercourse, including one that prescribes the punishment of 100 lashes for fornicators.[2] Four witnesses are required to prove the offense.[2]

Aside from "a few rare and isolated" instances from the pre-modern era and several recent cases, there is no historical record of stoning for zina being legally carried out.[1]

Where does all of the worship of Allah Go?

﴿ وَأَقِمِ الصَّلَاةَ لِذِكْرِي ﴾

“And maintain the prayer for My remembrance.”¹³

﴿ وَاعْبُدْ رَبَّكَ حَتَّىٰ يَأْتِيَكَ الْيَقِينُ ﴾

“And worship you Lord until certainty (or death) comes to you.”³¹

مَنْ أَخْلَصَ الْعِبَادَةَ لِلَّهِ أَرْبَعِينَ صَبَاحًا ظَهَرَتْ يَنَابِيعُ الْحِكْمَةِ مِنْ قَلْبِهِ عَلَى لِسَانِهِ.

“He who sincerely worships Allah for forty days, springs of wisdom shall appear from his heart to his tongue.”³²

In another hadith, we also read that the Holy Prophet (S) said:

طُوبَىٰ لِمَنْ عَشِقَ الْعِبَادَةَ وَعَانَقَهَا.

“Blessed is he who loves worship and is always fond of it.”¹⁶

The Muslim 10 commandments

Say, 'Come I will tell you what your Lord has really forbidden you. Do not ascribe anything as partner to Him; be good to your parents; do not kill your children in fear of poverty' - We will provide for you and for them - 'stay well away from committing obscenities, whether openly or in secret; do not take the life Allah has made sacred, except by right. This is what He commands you to do; perhaps you will use your reason. Stay well away from the property of orphans, except in the way that is best, until they come of age; give full measure and weight, according to justice' - We do not burden any soul with more than it can bear - 'when you speak, be just, even if it concerns a relative; keep any promises you make in Allah s name.' This is what He commands you to do, so that you may take heed. This is my path leading straight, so follow it, and do not follow other ways they will lead you away from it- 'This is what He commands you to do, so that you may refrain from wrongdoing. ' (AJ-An'am 6:151-153)

I have read documentation regarding the conquest of Spain by Islam and of the depredations the moors inflicted on the local gothic women including bull-jumping and Animal sex attacks. Additionally Muslims have inflicted bestiality on Jewish people in the middle east And this has been documented in sculpture. I searched for visual evidence on the internet, but the sculptures of bestiality have been moved.

Belial (Hebrew: בְּלִיַּעַל) (also Belhor, Baalial, Beliar, Beliall, Beliel, Beliya'al) is a term occurring in the Hebrew Bible which later became personified as the devil[1] in Jewish and Christian texts.

Deut.13

[13] Certain men, the children of Belial, are gone out from among you, and have withdrawn the inhabitants of their city, saying, Let us go and serve other gods, which ye have not known

1Sam.2

[12] Now the sons of Eli were sons of Belial; they knew not the LORD.

[10] And set two men, sons of Belial, before him, to bear witness against him, saying, Thou didst blaspheme God and the king. And then carry him out, and stone him, that he may die.

[there came in two men, children of Belial, and sat before him: and the men of Belial witnessed against him, even against Naboth, in the presence of the people, saying, Naboth did blaspheme God and the king. Then they carried him forth out of the city, and stoned him with stones, that he died.

2Chr.13

The Dead Sea Scrolls is a recounting of a dream of Amram, the father of Moses, who finds two 'watchers' contesting over him. One is Belial who is described as the King of Evil and Prince of Darkness. Belial is also mentioned in the Fragments of a Zadokite Work (which is also known as The Damascus Document (CD)), which states that during the eschatological age, "Belial shall be let loose against Israel, as God spoke through Isaiah the prophet." [22] The Fragments also speak of "three nets of Belial" which are said to be fornication, wealth, and pollution of the sanctuary. [23] In this work, Belial is sometimes presented as an agent of divine punishment and sometimes as a rebel, as Mastema is. It was Belial who inspired the Egyptian sorcerers, Jochaneh and his brother, to oppose Moses and Aaron. The Fragments also say that anyone who is ruled by the spirits of Belial and speaks of rebellion should be condemned as a necromancer and wizard.

The Isra and Mi'raj (Arabic: الإسراء والمعراج, al-'Isrā' wal-Mi'rāj) are the two parts of a Night Journey that, according to Islam, the Islamic prophet Muhammad took during a single night around the year 621. Within Islam it signifies both a physical and spiritual journey.[1] The Quran surah al-Isra contains an outline account,[2] while greater detail is found in the hadith collections of the reports, teachings, deeds and sayings of Muhammad. In the accounts of the Isra', Muhammad is said to have traveled on the back of a winged mule-like white beast, called Buraq, to "the farthest mosque". By tradition this mosque, which came to represent the physical world, was identified as the Al-Aqsa Mosque in Jerusalem. At the mosque, Muhammad is said to have led the other prophets in prayer. His subsequent ascent into the heavens came to be known as the Mi'raj. Muhammad's journey and ascent is marked as one of the most celebrated dates in the Islamic calendar.[3]

"I am Allah, there is no god but I, therefore serve Me and keep up prayer for My remembrance"[b].

Salah ("prayer, worship", from Arabic صلاة; pl. صلوات ṣalawāt), also called salat and namaz (from Persian: نماز), is one of the Five Pillars in the faith of Islam and an obligatory religious duty for every Muslim. It is a physical, mental, and spiritual act of worship that is observed five times every day at prescribed times. When they do this, they must face Mecca. In this ritual, the worshiper starts standing, bows, prostrates himself, and concludes while sitting on the ground.[1] During each posture, the worshiper recites or reads certain verses, phrases and prayers.

At least four forms of salat are introduced in the Quran, first, in order to glorify God's servants, God, and the angels practice the salat [c]; Secondly salah is acted by all beings in the heavens and the earth to the expression of universal Islam [d]; every voluntary Muslim performs it to reveals that it is the particular forms of worship belonged to all the prophets [e]; Lastly salat is described as the second pillar of Islam and a little defined what components includes.[3]

New International Version

All inhabitants of the earth will worship the beast--all whose names have not been written in the Lamb's book of life, the Lamb who was slain from the creation of the world.

The danger is real and serious. The Book of life is the term used for those people who are saved by God. Those not found in the Book of Life are destroyed permanently and depending on their lifestyle by hell fire.

Do not bow down to Islam and have a pin number because that Makes you an enemy of Jesus!
